

FROM THE PHOTOGRAPHIC DIARIES OF PHOTOGRAPHER DUSTIN PITTMAN
CLAYTON PATTERSON "THE $16 BURGER SHOW" WITH ELSA RENSA
& THE Art Collective BAND - DAMEHT

DAMEHT Performs @ Clayton Patterson's After Party
Photographed by Dustin Pittman

Clayton Patterson & Partner Elsa Rensaa
Photographed by Dustin Pittman

Clayton Patterson's Jacket Designs
Photographed by Dustin Pittman

The Art Collective Band DAMEHT
Photographed by Dustin Pittman

LES Artists "Thumbs Up" In Front of Clayton Patterson's Neon
Photographed by Dustin Pittman

One Of My Favorite Artists Favelapunk @ Clayton's Opening
Photographed by Dustin Pittman

DAMEHT Performs @ Clayton Patterson's After Party
Photographed by Dustin Pittman

Clayton Patterson with Close Friends
Photographed by Dustin Pittman

Goodbye Clayton and Elsa. We Will Miss You
Photographed by Dustin Pittman

Clayton Patterson's Jacket Designs
Photographed by Dustin Pittman

Dear Shaded Viewers,

Longtime Lower East Side archivist, artist, photographer, Clayton Patterson has announced that he is leaving New York for a small village in the Austrian alps. "The $16 Burger show," a pop-up exhibit featuring Patterson's work, along with his life partner Elsa Rensaa's original artwork, was held in a gallery space formerly known as "PopBurger" in the Meatpacking District. It has been christened "Galerie ABP," short for Au Bon Punk. Patterson, calls the neighborhood "the Dead Meat District." Dameht, a band which is part of an art collective in NYC, helped stage the exhibit, along with Kate Litvinov.

I believe in Clayton and everything that he represents. I, to, have witnessed the destruction of the LES and other Historic Manhattan Neighborhoods only to be priced out with Corporate Drug Stores, Banks, Expensive Coffee Shops, Cellphone Pop up Stores and other Mall Related storefront trash.

Mars Bar=GONE CBGB'S=GONE Max Fish=GONE Brownies=GONE.

The show was a celebration of young and old mingling together creating equal good vibes and loving spirits. Clayton Patterson is the GOD OF THE LES.
GOD IS GOOD.....

Photography and Text by Dustin Pittman <http://www.dustinpittman.com/>